

FOUNDER'S AWARD

Nomination Form

The John S. Bickley Founder's Award, named after the founder of the International Insurance Society, honors those who have made significant contributions to insurance theory and practice. It is awarded annually by the International Insurance Society, a non-profit organization of 1000 insurance executives around the world.

ELECTION PROCESS

Candidates meeting eligibility requirements are submitted to the IIS Honors Committee, which at its annual meeting, through a secret ballot, selects the winner of the Founder's Award.

CRITERIA FOR ELECTION

- Nominees shall have made a singular creative or innovative contribution to insurance thought, product, practice or education which has been adopted by the industry or society. The contribution should be recognized for its memorable, favorable and lasting impact and may be awarded to an individual, or to as many as three individuals as part of a team.
